Family Hui.

A Program of Lead4Tomorrow

It takes a Hui to raise a child.

Hui (hoo' ee) is a Hawaiian term for people working together for a shared purpose.

Family Hui's shared purpose is healthy families and communities. Family Hui parent/caregiver groups focus on learning about early childhood development and on developing empathy for oneself and one's children, family, and community.

Family Hui is an evidence-informed and externally evaluated program that honors the wisdom of the shelf and the wisdom of the self.

MISSION & VISION

Our mission is to develop sound families, thriving communities, and a more peaceful world.

The Family Hui program does this through peer-led parenting groups offering support, encouragement and empowerment for parents and caregivers as they face the joys and challenges of raising children.

PROGRAM PROVIDES

- Positive parenting peer groups with trained peer facilitators
- Bloom, our participant notebook/curriculum
- Developmental screenings in partnership with local agencies
- An ACEs informed, resilience focused program
- A community of support
- Information about local parenting resources and agencies

How Our Program Works

Join a Group: Family Hui works with partner agencies to identify potential leaders and recruits families collaboratively with leaders and partner agencies.

Share and Learn: Families take part in the 12-week peer led, mindful parenting Hui.

Build Community: New members connect with other families and make friends. Participants discuss weekly topics, participate in art activities and share life experiences.

Grow With Your Hui: Many parents continue participating in Family Hui, and some train to become group leaders; participants frequently volunteer to reach out to other families to join a Hui and expand their own network of support.

A woman wearing a headscarf is sitting on a patterned rug. She is holding a book in her hands and a cup. There is a small potted plant to her right. The entire image has a green tint.

“By attending to this program, I feel refreshed and most of my depression is gone during this time.”

“The Family Hui helps us raise our kids in a positive and peaceful way.”

“The program was really good and suitable for me, when I really need it and was alone, now I have more than one friend.”

“The Family Hui helps us make friends in our community and connect with other families.”

A photograph of a woman with long dark hair, smiling warmly as she holds a baby. The baby is wearing a light-colored knit hat and a white zip-up jacket. The entire image is overlaid with a semi-transparent orange filter. The quote is centered in white text.

“The Family Hui helps me face life challenges and think positively.”

“With Family Hui, we understand that as a women we have value and we should take care of ourselves. That is the first step to being good moms for our kids and family.”

“Family Hui is by far the most respectful, parent centered, relational model.”
