

*Good morning
Preventionists!*

Welcome to the 2023 CBCAP Annual
Grantee Meeting

Prevention and early intervention are urgently important to community wellness.

Practitioners at all service levels are learning from families what they have experienced and the kinds of supports families need.

Thank you all for remaining committed to:

-Addressing mandatory reporting and its limitations

-Investing in parent involvement and recognizing their critical input

-Expanding Family Resource and Support Centers

-Caring about data and what it tells us about populations most impacted, services that are most effective, and where we have gaps

-Raising public awareness around supporting our neighbors and communities; and strengthening protective factors

-Accepting discomfort to learn more about racism, historical trauma, and becoming better people.

Prevention Mindset Institute: Embracing Prevention Across Systems

Two primary purposes

1. Provide intensive technical assistance and support re: systems change
2. Learn from states' efforts and disseminate knowledge and key strategies to others

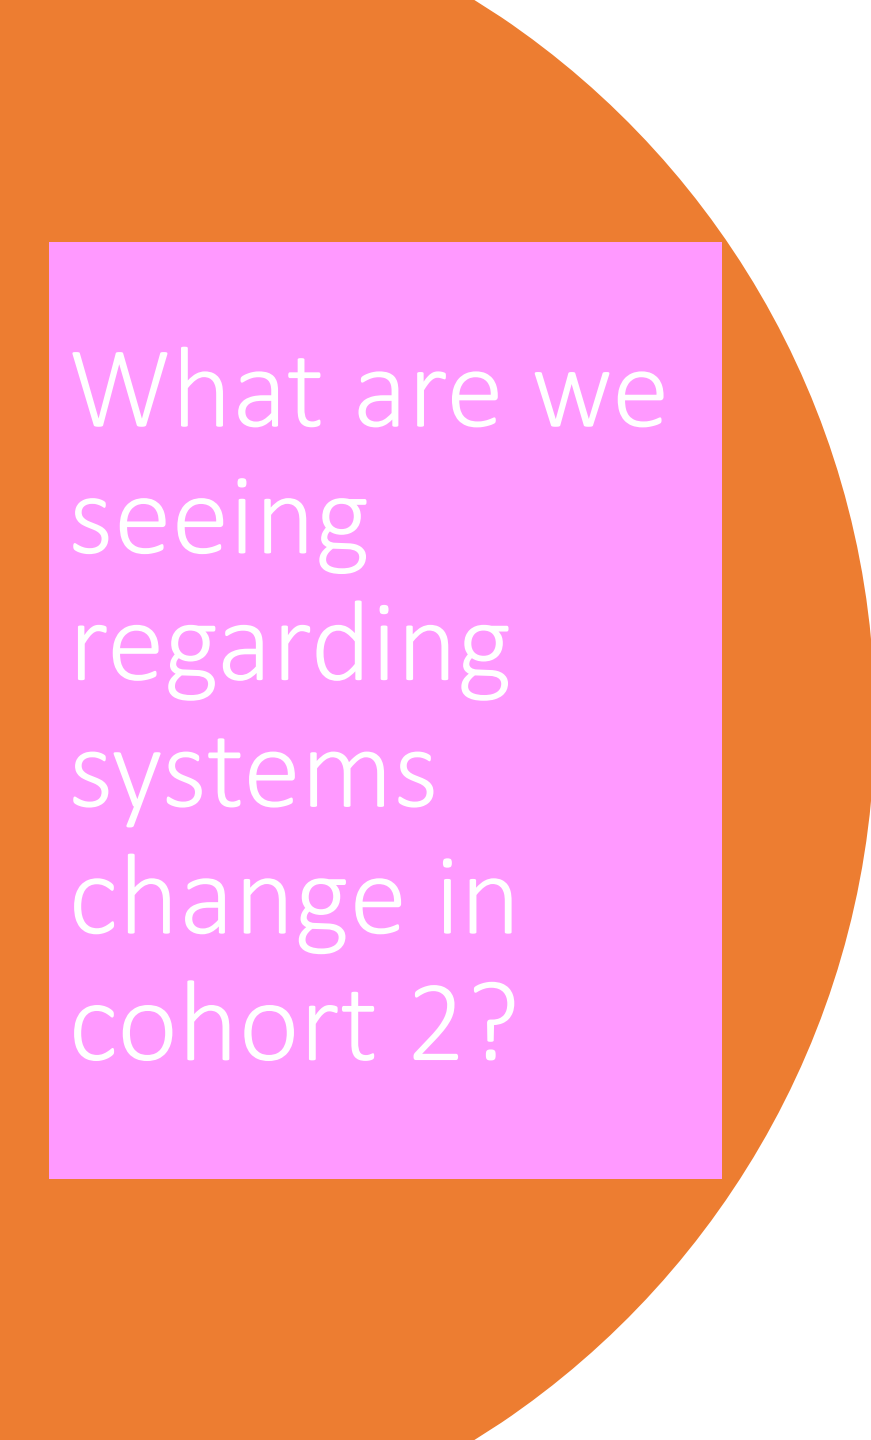

Learn more on our website:

<https://friendsnrc.org/cbcap/prevention-mindset-institute/>

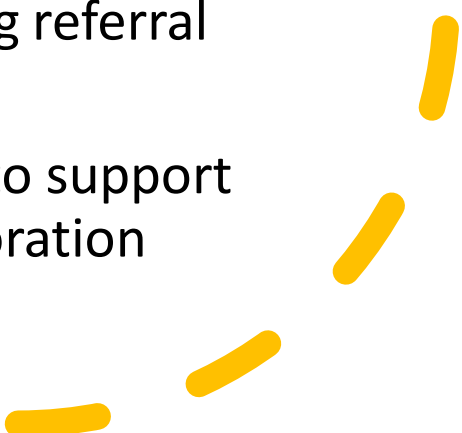

- 5 states in first cohort (2020)
- 5 states and YVFWC in second cohort (2022)

Key Partners:

- Johanne Hodgeman, Valerie Lebanon, David Armstrong (PAC)
- Action4Child Protection
- Children's Trust Fund Alliance
- Mining for Gold, Inc
- Prevention Institute
- Prevention Advocate, Alex Morales

What are we seeing regarding systems change in cohort 2?

- Distinguishing between neglect and poverty; state policy changes
 - Going deeper with parent leadership and parent engagement with prevention, preparing to use BEPPC to develop structure and provide training
 - Co-designing with parents and piloting new Parent Leadership Evaluation Guidance
 - Developing a prevention culture before implementing strategy (Spirit before Action)
 - Addressing shared prevention language across continuum with state staff and others
 - Warm lines and more family strengthening referral sources
 - Hiring a Prevention Mindset Coordinator to support prevention initiatives and improve collaboration
