Structural Growth

From ZERO staff to TWO staff

WYCTF has made significant structural progress throughout 2020. As of July 1, 2020 the Wyoming Legislature approved WYCTF's request for two state of Wyoming positions; one Executive Director and one Office Coordinator.

On September 1, 2020 Sara Serelson began as the Executive Director. On November 12, 2020 Nicole Neider began as the Office Coordinator. The two staff positions allow for expanding prevention efforts across Wyoming.

WYCTF, in partnership with Wyoming 2-1-1, Magellan Health Wrap Around, Wyoming Citizen Review Panel, Wyoming Parent Information Center, and the Wyoming Governor's office hosted 30 virtual parent café meetings from November 2020 through February 2021.

Main themes from parents across Wyoming is the need for transportation, expanded services in remote areas, medical care (routine and specialized), interpretation services, disability services, fatherhood programs, affordable housing, affordable family activities, and affordable child care. Common barriers, stated by Wyoming parents, include: finances, transportation, availability, and awareness of services.

Wyoming parents most frequently listed the following as supports within their communities: schools, home visiting programs, Department of Family Services, child development centers, wrap around services, and the expanded telehealth services during the Covid-19 pandemic.

When parents were asked for ideas and suggestions, the following themes arose: parent support groups, life skills classes for all ages, suicide prevention programs, programs and supports for teenagers, and community celebrations.

WYCTF facilitated the first Wyoming Spanish speaking parent café in March of 2021, and an additional Spanish speaking parent café is scheduled for April 2021. Additional opportunities to gather input from Spanish speaking parents will continue throughout 2021, as well as incorporating feedback. Specific themes presented by the Spanish speaking parents include, and were not limited to: interpretation services and support for parents, knowledge of Spanish speaking available services, and fear of engaging in services affecting immigration status of the parent.

Community Collaborations Child Protection Teams

Grant opportunities awarded to 9 community based child protection teams to support individualized, community identified prevention plans across Wyoming.
